

Angela Watters

Treasurer

Angela began her finance career over 30 years ago in the Golf Management Industry which has provided many amazing opportunities and business relationships. Angela is convinced the biggest asset and strongest foundation for any company is their Team. Angela believes that each person has been given unique talents which can be utilized for a bigger purpose and common goals. Recently, Angela felt led to serve her community by volunteering at One Safe Place in San Marcos. Her life experience mirrors many of those who come in to seek services. As a survivor and single mother of three, she feels she can empathize and is able to offer a warm smile, caring heart, and listening ear.

Angela felt particularly drawn to Sharia's Closet, where each piece of clothing helps a family in need and understands first-hand the impact this will have on each person who receives it. This was confirmed when she had the great pleasure of meeting Shamine and hearing the back story for the conception of Sharia's Closet and felt compelled to serve in this organization. Along with Angela's career as a Financial Controller, she recently received her certification in Tax Preparation for the State of California and began her own accounting business which offers help to small businesses locally. Angela's three children continue to be at the heart of everything she does.

In her free time, Angela enjoys relaxing at the beach, particularly Oceanside, cuddling with her dog Molly, listening to old school music, spa days, and shopping for her vintage glassware finds throughout North County. Angela is committed to the vision of Sharia's Closet and is very grateful for this opportunity.
